Dear Mr Hall

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I read in the paper to-night of your appointment as Principal of Sir George Williams College.

I feel quite sure that no better man could be chosen for the job and that you certainly deserve the promotion.

Let me congratulate you most sincerely on this happy occasion.

It is an honor for the Royal Astronomical Society to have such a distinguished person amongst its members.

I only hope that your increased duties will allow you from time to time to be with us, and to let us benefit of your wide experience and knowledge.

May I also say that I am very proud to have you as a friend and I hope that I may ever have the privilege to call you that.

Sincerely yours
Frank J. Skinder
